Wisconsin is the #1 dairy sheep state.

Feeding cows grass conserves energy.

Cows turn grass into meat and dairy products.

Chickens that eat grass lay eggs with golden yolks.

Grassfed beef is naturally lean.

Some birds nest in pastures.

A cow loves you!

Produced by the UW-Madison Center for Integrated Agricultural Systems
Visit www.cias.wisc.edu and www.grassworks.org for more information on grass-based farming and food.