Food for Thought, Food for Life
a short documentary by Susan Rockefeller

Wednesday, May 13, 6:30 pm
Central Library

201 W. Mifflin St. • 266-6300

As farms have become supersized, our environment and the quality of our food has suffered. Learn the downsides of current agribusiness practices, and meet farmers, chefs, researchers, educators, and advocates who are providing solutions. This examination of the connections between our planet and our well-being is accompanied by specific strategies that protect both. With an eye towards a sustainable and abundant future, it offers inspiration for communities that are ready to make a difference.

Join Shelly Strom, Community Lands and Garden Director of Community Groundworks; Kirsten Moore and Megan Minnick, Director of Cooperative Services and Purchasing Director, Willy St. Coop; and Michelle Miller, Associate Director, UW-Center for Integrated Agricultural Systems for a conversation following the film.

If you need accommodations to attend this program, please call 266-6363 or TDD # 266-6314 two weeks in advance.
